On my home page I will give a brief description of myself, more informal than my resume' but still things that I would like to share to potential employers, this is also where I would put news about myself.

Housed in this section will be all of my work that I deem acceptable to be shown on my professional website, work such as group projects, individual projects, writing samples, digital samples (pictures and videos). Links to these .pdf files would be provided most likely with a thumbnail photo of what the project looked like, maybe a description that could briefly describe the project to someone just browsing.
